Congratulations on your commitment to certification in care coordination and transition management. This guide will assist you in recertifying your Certified in Care Coordination and Transition Management (CCCTM®) certification through our recertification process.

CCCTM TRACKER

The CCCTM Tracker offers you the online convenience of taking charge of your recertification plan. When you choose to recertify by continuing education, the Tracker is your online resource for planning, tracking, and applying for recertification.

Use the Tracker to enter and track contact hours, store your employment information, review the verification status of self-reported contact hours, and apply for CCCTM recertification.

The CCCTM Tracker is a simple tool that shows your certification information, how close you are to recertifying, and the contact hours counting toward your recertification. You can also print your certification wallet card right from your Tracker.

RECERTIFICATION

The CCCTM credential is valid for a period of 5 years. Recertification is required to maintain the CCCTM credential through the Medical-Surgical Nursing Certification Board (MSNCB™).

The recertification options are:

RECERTIFY BY CONTINUING EDUCATION

To recertify by continuing education, first you must meet specific eligibility requirements (see eligibility criteria on page 2), comply with any application deadlines, and pay the appropriate recertification fee. Your application deadline date is 30 days prior to your certification expiration date.

For initial recertification, contact hours earned as of January 1 of the first year of initial certification are acceptable. For all following certifications, contact hours within the current certification period may be submitted. Contact hour entries may be used in one recertification period only.

MSNCB shall not discriminate against any certification candidate on the basis of age, sex, race, religion, national origin, ethnicity, disability, marital status, sexual orientation, or gender identity. MSNCB shall not publish materials with discriminatory content, graphics or language that may be offensive to population.

APPLICATION INSTRUCTIONS

When your 90 contact hours have been entered and verified, you've entered the required employment information, and you are within the application time frame, the online application and payment screen can be accessed from your Tracker at msncb.org/ccctm-tracker.

Recertification Application Deadlines

You are eligible for CCCTM recertification starting one year prior to and up to one year after your current certification expiration date.

If your certification expires, you have a one year grace period in which to recertify (with a late fee). The CCCTM credential cannot be used with an expired certification.

Your application deadline date is 30 days prior to your certification expiration date.

Allow up to 10 business days for self-reported contact hours to be reviewed and verified. After all required CHs are verified, submit your application no later than 30 days prior to your certification expiration date to avoid a late fee.

FREQUENTLY ASKED QUESTIONS ABOUT CCCTM RECERTIFICATION

When do I need to submit my recertification application?

Your application deadline date is 30 days prior to your certification expiration date. Applications submitted after the deadline date will incur a $75 late fee.

You are eligible for recertification as early as one year before your certification expiration date, and up to one year after this time (with a late fee).

How far back can I claim contact hours?

You can include any contact hours beginning from January of the year you were initially certified, or from your most recent recertification date.

How come my category type changed to Professional Development (PROFDEV)?

Recertification staff review and verify each contact hour activity. Activities with topics that cover the broad area of health care and general nursing are categorized as professional development. Staff adjust the category before verifying the activity.

How do I know if my contact hours are CCTM or as professional development?

There are several ways to determine if the content of your contact hours are CCTM or professional development. If the topic is also covered on the exam blueprint, the activity is acceptable for CCTM. Topics like leadership, delegation, documentation, or compassion fatigue are considered professional development.

Do all CCTM contact hours need to be awarded through AAACN?

No. CNE activities may be provided or co-provided by any individual, state, or national organization accredited as a provider or approver of continuing nursing education. Education programs may be in any format including, but not limited to, courses, workshops, and independent study. AAACN is an excellent resource for CCTM-related educational programs through their annual convention, official publications, and online library.

Do I send in copies of my contact hour certificates?

No, do not send copies of your certificates when you apply. Retain your certificates in case your application is selected for random audit and copies are requested at that time.

I went back to school. Can I use classes from my degree for contact hours?

If you have been accepted into an accredited baccalaureate, master or doctoral degree program, academic courses may be counted toward CCTM practice or professional development, depending on the content. A copy of a transcript must be submitted for approval. Each credit = 15 contact hours with a maximum of 75 CH allowed per recertification period.

I have more contact hours of continuing education than the required amount. Should I list more activities I attended?

Yes. Please limit additional contact hours to 5 to 10.

How do I know if my contact hours are from an approved provider?

When it states that the contact hours must be from an approved provider, it doesn't mean MSNCB must approve each provider. Any organization providing continuing nursing education must seek approval to provide it (to make sure you as a nurse are receiving quality education). There are hundreds of approvers. An organization will always be able to tell you if it has been approved to provide the contact hours. There is also a statement on the certificate you receive stating the approved provider.

Can contact hours provided by my facility/hospital count?

If your facility/hospital is accredited as an approved provider, you can use the contact hours.

What if I do not have enough contact hours to recertify by continuing education?

You can recertify by taking the exam again. You must pass the exam by your expiration date. Standard exam fees apply.

Where is the preceptor form?

The preceptor form is found at msncb.org.

If you haven't found what you're looking for, you can also contact us at msncb@msncb.org or 866-877-2676 for assistance.
